

GLI EUROPE PROMOTES MARTIN BRITTON TO DIRECTOR OF ENGINEERING

HILLEGOM, The Netherlands (19 January 2009) – Longtime European gaming technical expert Martin Britton has joined the GLI Europe BV staff full time. Mr. Britton has been hired as Director of Engineering, and will be responsible for managing all engineering activities in the Netherlands office.

Mr. Britton initially began working with GLI in June 2008, acting as U.K. Business Development Manager. In his new role, Mr. Britton is directly responsible for managing the customer experience and ensuring that customers' expectations are met by the engineering staff. Additionally, he will be responsible for Business Development in the U.K., working with other GLI Europe Development Managers. Mr. Britton will also work in close conjunction with GLI Austria and GLI Italy to provide multi-jurisdictional solutions to clients.

Mr. Britton has a long history in the European gaming industry, including positions as Chief Operating Officer for Cyberview Technology, Technical Director and Commercial Director for TCS/John Huxley and Commercial and Technical Director at VIP Gaming.

Managing Director of GLI Europe BV Phillip Barow said, "Bringing Martin full time to our team is a way to further build on GLI Europe BV's testing and regulatory support capabilities. Adding Martin gives GLI the proper resources to service all customers and to continue to advise regulators in the European community."

For more than 20 years, Gaming Laboratories International has been the world leader in independent testing for the gaming industry. With 13 testing laboratories spread across Africa, Asia, Australia, Austria, Europe, South America and the United States, GLI is the only laboratory of its kind to hold both U.S. and International accreditations for compliance with ISO 17025 and 17020 standards for technical competence in testing and inspection services.
